The Second Term Test of English

Class:3ASS.3ASGE

Study has shown that the physically unfit person is unable to withstand fatigue for longer periods than the fit one; the physically fit person is better equipped to tolerate physical stress and has a stronger and more efficient heart. There is a relationship between good mental alertness, absence of nervous tension and physical fitness.

One way of being fit is through weight control. The major purpose of weight control is to reduce the amount of fat and to increase the amount of muscle. It is in reality a programme of fat control rather than weight control. This control can be exerted only by coupling a sensible dietary programme with a regular balanced programme of exercise.

When we eat, the food is used, stored or discarded. The body stored fuel or calories as fat. The more fuel we consume and the less of it we use, then the more of it stored in the body in the form of fat. The human body is not like the petrol tank of a car that will overflow when it is full. Our bodies accept all the calories that we put into them, and store those we do not use.

When you exercise, you burn calories. As muscle is slightly heavier than fat, you may very well notice an increase in your weight rather than a reduction. However, it must be stressed that this muscle weight is useful weight and will improve the way you look and feel.

Research has shown clearly that the most effective way of taking off weight and keeping it off is through a programme which combines diet and exercise.
